

Recycling Works

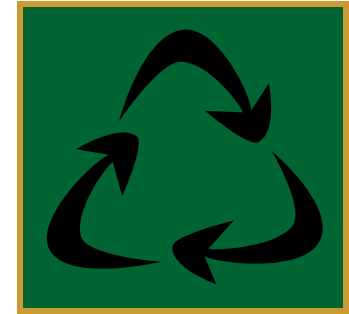

Turning Point Applied Learning Center, Inc. and Highco, Inc., the adult sheltered workshop of Hills and Dales and the Highland County MRDD administer Recycling Works, a program to provide paper-recycling services to businesses, industries and residential customers of the Highland County area.

Recycling Works provides free on-site collection boxes and pick-up services of recyclable office paper generated by business, industries, schools, professional offices and medical facilities.

There is no charge for collection of the paper. Once collected, the paper will be processed for further recycling. Additional processing includes Turning Point employment training participants and members of the Highco adult sheltered workshop sorting, shredding and baling the paper.

Recycling Benefits Our Community

- ◆ Community - For every ton of paper recycled, 3 cubic yards of landfill space is saved.
- ◆ Corporate - Recycling paper saves corporations money on waste disposal costs.
- ◆ Job Training –Recycling Works will provide employment opportunities for Turning Point and Highco, Inc. participants.
- ◆ Environment –In 2003 the U.S. paper recovery rate achieved an all-time high of 50.3%. Total U.S. paper recovery reached 49.3 million tons in 2003, an increase of 69% since 1990. By recycling 1 ton of paper we save:
 - 17 trees
 - 6953 gallons of water
 - 463 gallons of oil
 - 587 pounds of air pollution
 - 3.06 cubic yards of landfill space
 - 4077 Kilowatt hours of energy
